My name is Enrique Garcia. I am discerning a call to serve Christ and His Church as a priest with the Diocese of El Paso. This is my story.

In the Beginning

I was raised in a devout Catholic family with my four siblings. We were deeply involved in parish life in our home church in El Paso, Texas. When I wasn't serving Mass, I was playing sports and throwing myself enthusiastically into reading and learning. Throughout my life, my mother has been a constant rock of faith and prayer for me, interceding in prayer and reminding me of God's love. As I grew, I spent many years physically and emotionally removed from my parents, but like the Prodigal Son, I've come to realize that God was calling me back to my family's side and to the Church.

The Call

I first heard a calling to the priesthood in elementary and high school. In college, though, I lapsed in my practice of the Faith and the calling lay dormant. Eventually, I went on pilgrimage to the Basilica of San Juan in Texas. There, I attended Confession for the first time in years, and as I prayed the Stations of the Cross, I was moved to tears.

While serving as a Catholic High School principal, I knew that I was responsible for leading others in the Faith by example. Gradually, the Lord opened my mind and heart to saying "yes" to His call to the priesthood.

"Gradually, the Lord opened my mind and heart to saying "yes" to His call to the priesthood."

—Enrique

An Invitation

As I follow God's calling to the priesthood, I seek others to accompany me on this journey. May we meet so that I can share more? Until then, please keep me and my classmates in prayer, and feel free to reach out to me at Enrique.Garcia@rescuevocations.org.

Why is Labouré Needed?

Escalating education costs block many aspiring priests and religious from answering God's call.

Many religious communities cannot afford to assume their aspirants' loan debts

Most dioceses / eparchies will allow some debt but have a limited threshold for acceptance

Rising formation costs often limit missionary activities and care of aging priests and religious.

How does the Mission Work?

OUR ASPIRANTS

Are discerning a vocation and have been selected into a diocese / eparchy or religious institute

Are blocked from entering or continuing vocational formation due to student loans and/or formation expenses

Are trained by Labouré in Catholic-based fundraising and are provided with practical tools, personal mentoring and accountability

Share their vocation stories with thousands of Catholic benefactors, thereby building a culture of vocations and evangelization

As a class, aspirants raise funds collectively and receive awards from those funds to be applied to their educational debt

THE LABOURÉ SOCIETY

Works with aspirants to utilize all personal means to mitigate their loan amount upon joining the program

Trains each aspirant in Catholic-based philanthropy

Mentors each aspirant to build a unified class; each individual works toward the collective goal

Accompanies each aspirant through ongoing accountability and guidance to ensure successful completion of individual and class fundraising plans

Equips each aspirant with an online fundraising platform and multi-media fundraising tools

350+ INSTITUTIONS
