My name is Victor Rosas. I am discerning a call to serve Christ and His Church as a priest with the Archdiocese of Hartford. This is my story.

In the Beginning

I am one of two children, and grew up in a Catholic family in East Hartford, Connecticut. I recall playing Mass at the age of seven, complete with saltine crackers for hosts. For most of my life, I never asked myself why I was a Catholic—I practiced my faith and received the Sacraments through high school. In college, though, I placed almost everything else before my faith.

The Call

Right before the COVID-19 pandemic, I returned home from school with little to no job prospects. The best thing I did that year was return to church. My parish priest encouraged me that it was never too late to start over in my faith journey, so I decided to take one step forward in faith each day. I continued to grow in my faith—in a casino of all places! Through my casino job, I was able to volunteer at my parish with my ample time off.

When I began working in Pennsylvania for the Commonwealth's Gaming Control Board, I bore witness to the spiritual battle that is gambling addiction. Through helping those in need, I felt the call to serve God's people for the first time. Soon after, I got in touch with my old parish priest for spiritual direction, and as we continued to meet regularly, it became clear that God was calling me to discern the priesthood.

“Through helping those in need, I felt the call to serve God’s people for the first time.”

An Invitation

As I follow God's calling to the priesthood, I seek others to accompany me on this journey. May we meet so that I can share more? Until then, please keep me and my classmates in prayer, and feel free to reach out to me at Victor.Rosas@rescuevocations.org.

Why is Labouré Needed?

Escalating education costs block many aspiring priests and religious from answering God's call.

Many religious communities cannot afford to assume their aspirants' loan debts

Most dioceses / eparchies will allow some debt but have a limited threshold for acceptance

Rising formation costs often limit missionary activities and care of aging priests and religious.

How does the Mission Work?

OUR ASPIRANTS

Are discerning a vocation and have been selected into a diocese / eparchy or religious institute

Are blocked from entering or continuing vocational formation due to student loans and/or formation expenses

Are trained by Labouré in Catholic-based fundraising and are provided with practical tools, personal mentoring and accountability

Share their vocation stories with thousands of Catholic benefactors, thereby building a culture of vocations and evangelization

As a class, aspirants raise funds collectively and receive awards from those funds to be applied to their educational debt
