My name is Jake White. I am discerning a call to serve Christ and His Church as a priest with the Archdiocese of Hartford. This is my story.

In the Beginning

I grew up in Worcester, Massachusetts. Though I received the Sacraments and attended a Catholic elementary school, my family didn't practice the Faith. Most of my youth was taken up with sports, clubs, friends, and relationships.

The Call

In college, I suffered a minor crisis about what career to pursue and what I wanted to do with my life. I realized I needed to develop my relationship with God, so I opened the Bible unprompted for the first time in my life. I read all four Gospels in succession over the course of a week. I distinctly remember being brought to tears because I could feel how alive the Scriptures are and how deep God's love is for me.

Soon thereafter, a close friend converted to Catholicism. This captured my attention, because he was vehemently anti-Catholic before converting. That was the catalyst for my own journey of reclaiming my lost Catholicism.

Eventually, God began inviting me to discern the priesthood. Every time I prayed, I would think about the priesthood. One Sunday at Mass, I offered my life to God. After receiving the Eucharist, I knelt and closed my eyes, imploring the Lord to guide me toward His will for my life. Suddenly, in my mind, a blood-stained Eucharist appeared with a wound from Jesus' crucifixion through the center. I heard the Lord speak to my heart, "...lead them to Me. Be with Me in this way." In time, I visited the Vocation Director, who confirmed that God seemed to be inviting me to discern the priesthood.

"Every time I prayed, I would think about the priesthood."

An Invitation

As I follow God's calling to the priesthood, I seek others to accompany me on this journey. May we meet so that I can share more? Until then, please keep me and my classmates in prayer, and feel free to reach out to me at Jake.White@rescuevocations.org.

Why is Labouré Needed?

Escalating education costs block many aspiring priests and religious from answering God's call.

Many religious communities cannot afford to assume their aspirants' loan debts

Most dioceses / eparchies will allow some debt but have a limited threshold for acceptance

Rising formation costs often limit missionary activities and care of aging priests and religious.

How does the Mission Work?

OUR ASPIRANTS

Are discerning a vocation and have been selected into a diocese / eparchy or religious institute

Are blocked from entering or continuing vocational formation due to student loans and/or formation expenses

Are trained by Labouré in Catholic-based fundraising and are provided with practical tools, personal mentoring and accountability

Share their vocation stories with thousands of Catholic benefactors, thereby building a culture of vocations and evangelization

As a class, aspirants raise funds collectively and receive awards from those funds to be applied to their educational debt
